

Senior Project Research ENCYCLOPEDIA

Bibliographic Information:

Article title: _____ Page(s): _____

Encyclopedia title: _____

Author(s) if given: _____

Publisher: _____ City published: _____

Year published: _____ Today's date: _____

This encyclopedia is (circle):                      in print                      online                      in EBSCO

URL (if online or in EBSCO - permalink in EBSCO): _____

Database (if in EBSCO): _____

Notes (continued on back):

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Senior Project Research JOURNAL/MAGAZINE

Journals contain scholarly articles written by experts which are most times reviewed by other experts before being published. They are written for scholars and students to use in research. Some examples are American Journal of Psychology, Educational Technology, and Science. Magazines are written for a general audience. The articles are not necessarily written by experts and are generally used for entertainment purposes. Some examples are Surfing, National Geographic, and Newsweek.

Bibliographic information:

This is a (circle):                      journal                                      magazine

Name of journal/magazine: _____

Article title: _____

Pages: _____ Volume: _____ Issue: _____ Series: _____

Author(s) name: _____

Date published: _____ Today's date:

_____

This journal/magazine is:                      in print                                      online                                      in EBSCO

URL (if online or in EBSCO - permalink in EBSCO): _____

_____

Database: _____

Notes (continued on back):

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

